

A Barbed Wire Cut, Collar or Saddle Gail not properly healed leaves a disfiguring scar.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleansed and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on the animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

Price 25c, 50c and $1.00.

Sugar Consumption in the United States.

The people of the United States consume half their own weight in sugar every year. This may seem a startling statement, but if we take the quantity of sugar produced in the United States and add to this the quantity brought from our own islands and the quantity imported from foreign countries, and subtract therefrom the amount exported, we get a grand total of considerably more than 7 billion pounds consumed in the country; and by dividing the population into this grand total, we get an average of 81½ pounds per capita, speaking in round terms, for 1910, and about a like quantity for 1909. It is not assumed, of course, that each person necessarily consumes sugar equal to one-half his individual weight; but taking the total consumption and comparing it with the total population in the section known as continental United States, the average yearly consumption of sugar is found to be about 81½ pounds per capita.

In fact, the people of the United States are larger consumers of sugar per capita than those of any other country of the world except England, for which the latest figures show a consumption averaging 86 pounds per capita, against our own average of 81½ pounds per capita. The next largest per capita consumption is in Denmark, 77¾ pounds; followed by Switzerland, 64 pounds Sweden, 54 pounds; and Germany and Holland, each about 43½ pounds.

Not only is the United States the second largest sugar consumer per capita, but the total amount consumed annually is much greater than that of any other country, aggregating, as above indicated, more than 7 billion pounds per annum, against about 4 billion pounds in England and about 3 billion pounds in Germany.

About one-half of the sugar consumed in the United States is brought from foreign countries, about one-fourth from our own islands, and the remaining one-fourth produced in this country. The total production of sugar in the United States now amounts to 1½ billion pounds a year, of which more than 1 billion pounds is beet sugar and about three quarters of a billion cane sugar. It is only recently that the production of beet sugar in the United States has come to exceed that of cane sugar. In 1900 domestic production of cane sugar was twice as great as that of beet sugar, and 20 years ago was more than 60 times as great; but the growth of beet sugar production has been very rapid in recent years, and in 1907, for the first time, exceeded in quantity that produced from cane and has so continued since that time.

Of the sugar brought from other countries, nearly all is made from cane. While about half of the world's sugar is made from beets, most of it is produced in Europe and consumed in the country of production or in other parts of that grand division, while most of the world outside of Europe obtains its sugar supply from cane, grown of course, in the tropical and subtropical sections. Of the cane sugar which we consume, most of that coming from foreign countries is drawn from Cuba, the Dutch East Indies, and smaller amounts from the West Indies, Mexico, Central and South America. All of that coming from our own islands—Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines—is cane sugar, while of the domestic product about 49 per cent is produced from cane. The beet sugar of the United States is grown chiefly in Colorado, California, and Michigan, and some in Utah, Idaho, and Wisconsin; while most of the cane sugar is produced in Louisiana, with smaller quantities in Texas,

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. You must have one or two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating, but drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After using that cathartic, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowels to work again work naturally at certain hours—then buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing. They began with a sample bottle, then bought a fifty cent bottle, and now, fully convinced of its merits, they buy the one dollar family size. All the members of the family can use it down to the very youngest.

A brief use of this grand laxative tonic will cure constipation in its worst form, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such ailments and keep you in continuous good health at a very small cost. Such is the experience of many families. For further proof, ask Mrs. Oscar Fleener, Unionville, Ind., J. P. Daniel, Saron, Tex., and hundreds of others that could be named.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For further request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 600 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Life of Gov. Johnson

The life-story of the "Great Governor of Minnesota" is the most inspiring story of the life of a real man that has been published in this generation.

The late governor was characterized as the most lovable man in public life since the days of Abraham Lincoln, and his biography is instructive, inspirational and thrilling.

The "Life" was published by authority of the widow, and in her benefit. The authors and publishers were intimate friends of the late governor, one of them, Mr. Day, being his private secretary.

The book contains 430 type pages and 22 pages of illustrations, or 452 pages all told, and is a perfect specimen of the best printing and binding.
